HOTELS BOYCOTT
REICHSTAG FOR FOOD SEIZURES

Lawmakers Now Forced
To Buy it Elsewhere, Is Reprisal Edict.

BERLIN, Dec. 13.—Seventeen members of the German Reichstag will feel the effect of the strict laws which have been passing against illicit dealing in food.

Tired of continuous persecutions by the ever-vigilant government agents, who make frequent and unexpected searches, a hotel company that operates a restaurant at the Reichstag and one at the Zoological Gardens, the Bristol, two other large hotels and a number of cafes, announced that beginning today they would discontinue serving food at all of these establishments.

The guests, among whom are many officials of the allied governments, will be permitted to continue to live in the hotels, but they will only be able to get morning coffee there. All other drinks and foods will not be sold at the bars and kitchens will be closed.

No longer will the banquet halls of the restaurants in the Zoological Gardens be the scene of elaborate birthday parties and other festivities, as only wines will be served there, that is unless the guests bring their own bologna and cheese sandwiches with them.

Today is the second time in two weeks that this company has stepped into the limelight, as a government statement, which later was declared an error, was made ten days ago to the effect that it would be forced to discontinue the sale of food as a result of violations of the law.

The latest action is expected to bring to a head the war between the proprietors of hotels and restaurants and the government, and unless the restrictions are modified the union of German hotel owners may make good its threat of last week to close the 5,000 hotels in control in various German cities.

WOMEN WARNED TO CEASE SPYING

Mulcahey Papers Tell of Banishment From Ireland.

LONDON, Dec. 13.—Banishment is the penalty in Ireland for women, other than Irish women, who spy on the activities of the Irish army.

A second, establishing the connection between Irish republican army leaders and the Dail Eireann are the chief points in the disclosures today of the secret history of Ireland's military chief-of-staff.

The documents known as the Mulcahey papers establish that the Dail Eireann, the Parliament of the Sinn Fein Republic of Ireland, was and is the final authority in the Irish republican movement. Michael Collins, commander-in-chief of the Irish republicans, according to these papers, organized a special society of women to do intelligence work for the Sinn Fein army leaders and to carry messages; but he did not overrule the possibility that some women might also be doing similar work for the British forces.

Evidence of this is found in the following general order, dated as follows:

"Irish Volunteers, general headquarters, Dublin, Nov. 9: General orders, new series, 1920: Number 13, subject: Women Spies.

"Where there is evidence that a woman is a spy, or is doing petty spy work, the brigade commander whose area is involved will set up a court of inquiry to examine the evidence against her. If the court finds her guilty of the charge, she shall be advised accordingly, and except in the case of an Irish woman, be ordered to leave the country within seven days. It shall be intimated to her that only consideration of her sex prevents the infliction of the statutory penalty of death. A formal public statement of the facts of the conviction shall be issued in poster or leaflet form, or both, according to the circumstances, as a warning and a preventive.

"In the case of Irish women it is hoped that exposure will be sufficient to put a stop to their activities. (Chief-of-staff, 1920, Public Ledger Co.)

American Protests
Fehrenbach Speech

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND.

BERLIN, Dec. 13.—That the United States is still an associate of the allied powers came today when it was developed that Commissioner Drexel, presumably acting under instructions from the State Department, had taken parallel action with England, France and Belgium in censoring German propaganda in the United States.

Minister Simons, in his speeches made in occupied territory, Drexel's action appears to have been independent of the allies, largely because the allied governments here cannot act officially. It is believed that the State Department hardly would have made the move in Berlin unless approached by the allies.

It has given rise to renewed circulation of reports of a fortnight ago that Washington has given approval to the allied plan that France may occupy the Ruhr coal region if Bavaria fails to disarm her anti-Bolshevik civil guard under Escherich.

The war and revolution came, and Trotsky disappeared.

The other day the woman, now happily married, received a visit from a commission of police, who bore a letter stamped with the arms of Russia.

"What does this mean?" she asked. "There is a considerable sum of money here. Are you a spy for the Soviets?"

The woman opened the letter and found therein notes amounting to several hundred rubles. Inclosed was a letter from Trotsky, apologizing for not having paid his debt sooner, but saying that it had slipped his

CHINESE PEOPLE IMMUNE
TO BOLSHEVISM, IS BOAST
OF HER FOREIGN OFFICE

Seven-Eighths of People Hold Land, and Capitalism Is Virtually Non-Existent.

PEKIN, Dec. 13.—The following is an excerpt from an official statement covering conditions in China as far as the country's attitude toward Bolshevism is concerned and issued by the Chinese foreign office.

The reports which are most persistent and presently those which are most ill-founded. One is that a monarchical restoration has actually occurred or is imminent; another that the country not only offers an attractive field for Bolshevism but that it is insidious and farspread campaign of propaganda is actually raging which may engulf the nation. Both statements disclose singular ignorance of existing conditions and of the whole trend of Chinese thought.

"It may be generally said that the people at large are so completely accustomed to the practice which is the concept of a hereditary ruler seems to belong to a remote past. That some years ago, owing to a peculiar situation which arose in the capital from the shifting of some troops a nominal restoration was gasseted must be counted a purely fortuitous affair due to the abnormal conditions and the preoccupation of everyone with the world war.

"As for Bolshevist doctrines China is probably the last country in the world to fear what is the nightmare of other nations. Not only is the land all divided and tightly held in small parcels by title deed among tens of millions of cultivators, who comprise seven-eighths of the population, but the Chinese have a keen sense of individualism. Chinese society, with its ancient collectivist structure, indeed offers such a serious challenge to Marxian doctrine that the practice of the latter appears both retrograde and elementary. Contact with Bolshevism along an open land frontier thousands of miles in length, known in Chinese as the large Chinese trading communities in Russian towns—when all other foreigners have disappeared—tend to prove that the Chinese are not only immune but that the nations can hold their own in competition with Sovietism.

"In what is said about the prevalence of militarism there is likewise a grave confusion. The essential

RARE GEM LEAVES TRAIL
OF BLOOD IN FAR-OFF CHINA

By CHARLES E. HOGUE.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Washington Herald.

SHANGHAI, Dec. 13.—Foreign and native police departments throughout China are engaged in a hunt today that involves a story as weird as any Oriental tale. A rare jade jewel has disappeared. Its latest owner escaped death, after being shot in the head and is spending thousands in an endeavor to recover the gem.

Woo Sing-fang, owner of a tiny shop in the exclusive Bubbling Well district, is a dealer in rare gems. How he came to possess the fateful jewel, known in Chinese as "The Jade," he refuses to disclose.

A short time ago a well dressed stranger, apparently an American, entered the shop and asked to see the choicest jewel he had. The shopkeeper believed his customer to be a man of wealth and suggested he obtain some rarer articles than those on display. The foreigner agreed and an appointment was made for the next day.

When the customer kept the appointment, the merchant brought forth necklaces and unmounted jade of rare value. From the lot the foreigner selected a jewel valued at 5,000 taels (about $7,000). He then requested the jeweler to accompany him to his home nearby, where the transaction would be completed. "Wait," urged the merchant.

Church Ousts Parents
Of Runaway Daughter

PASSAIC, N. J., Dec. 13.—"A true follower of God may stray from the straight and narrow path, but with God's help he can come back, as Paul did."

This was the prelude this morning to the expulsion from the Netherlands Reformed Church here of Mr. and Mrs. Marinus Hannenbergs, parents of Miss Trina Hannenbergs, who disappeared on November 12 with the pastor of the church, the Rev. Cornelius Densel.

The expulsion was announced by an elder of the church, giving as his reason that the girl's parents knew of her relations with the pastor, and failed to notify the consistory. The church fathers have placed on probation Mrs. Jacob Cooper, another daughter of the Hannenbergs.

Says Weather
Has Control of World's Politics

BERLIN, Dec. 13.—Dr. Georg Lomer, German scientist, has made the discovery that there is a direct connection between weather conditions and political happenings.

Lomer has spent a portion of his scientific life to proving this theory and gives tables and figures to, he says, establish his contention. Writing in the Review of Progress in Science and Technique, he declares the human being may believe himself to be a creature with spiritual independence, but in reality he is in a "net of psychocomic powers" and is sort of a pawn in the "chess game of Providence."

All of which leads up to his contention that weather and politics are all wrapped up together—in other words, that they aren't the results of human manipulation, but of physical and psychic forces.

Dr. Lomer sets forth that sultry political happenings attend sultry weather and that stormy political events accompany storm signs on the barometer.

SEEKS PHILIPPINE
LOAN OF $15,000,000

MANILA, Dec. 13.—Philip C. Whitaker of the Philippine Trust Company is on his way to New York to float a bond issue of $15,000,000 at 8 per cent for twenty years against the sugar plantations and sugar estates in the Philippines. Mortgages at present held by the Philippine National Bank are to be canceled, reconvertible $12,000,000 into liquid form.

No difficulty is expected in floating the bonds because they are guaranteed by the trust company as representing vast resources and also by the National Bank, which virtually means the government. The issue, it is anticipated, will benefit the business interests in the islands. The effect on the sugar industry will be to provide a twenty-year credit at 8 per cent and the opportunity will be great for development.

Italy to Honor Constantine.

PARIS, Dec. 13.—The Italian government has announced that when Constantine passes through Rome en route to Athens he will be accorded the full honors usually bestowed upon reigning monarchs.

The French plan for the allies to simultaneously break off diplomatic relations with Greece were, summarily halted by Italy, which government has officially and emphatically refused to recall the Italian ambassador to Greece.

POKER PLAYER LOST
WIFE, HOME, CASH

GENEVA, Dec. 13.—Declaring that he had lost everything he owned, including his wife, to a "friend" at poker, Andrea Calloni, arrested here for bigamy, told the magistrate that he considered that when his opponent drew the "case ace" he was legally divorced.

The game was played in Milan. First Calloni lost his cash, then his jewels, then his home and finally in desperation he staked his wife, a beautiful young girl he had recently married.

Two months later Calloni, after honorably handing over his spouse to the victor, married again. Now he's due for a stretch for bigamy.
